

MARCH 8, 2016

Food Policy To mark the 20th anniversary of New York University’s Food Studies program, the university hosted a panel discussion on the food movement in the United States. Panelists include David Kamp, the author of “The United States of Arugula,” the Executive Vice President of the James Beard Foundation, and the heads of food policy groups and the chair of NYU’s Food Studies and Nutrition Department

<http://www.c-span.org/video/?405759-1/food-policy>